About this piece

A frosted Vaseline glass shade from the Arts and Crafts movement (c.1900), of bell form with green-tinted flared rim and satin-finished surface.

This Vaseline glass lampshade, produced during the Arts and Crafts movement (1880–1910), combines hand-blown form with subtle surface modulation. The conical body flares into a rounded bell rim lightly tinted green, the upper portion exhibiting a frosted satin finish that diffuses light softly when illuminated.

The aperture measures approximately 3 cm in diameter, suitable for standard fittings of the period.
