

Lewis Foreman Day. Made by Howell & Sons. An Aesthetic Movement Ebonized Clock

Ref: PV004762

£5,500

|            |                                                                     |
|------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------|
| MAKER      | Howard and Sons                                                     |
| DESIGNER   | Lewis Foreman Day                                                   |
| PERIOD     | Aesthetic Movement , 1880-1889                                      |
| YEAR       | 1880                                                                |
| STYLE      | Art Furniture                                                       |
| ORIGIN     | United Kingdom                                                      |
| MATERIALS  | Ceramic, Brass                                                      |
| DIMENSIONS | H: 16.1 in (40.9 cm)   W: 12.28 in (31.2 cm)   D: 6.02 in (15.3 cm) |
| CONDITION  | Good                                                                |

About this piece

An Aesthetic Movement ebonized clock

with finely carved decoration, the clock movement is by Edwards & Sons with a pair of carved devices below and a blue and white floral ceramic border.

The finely fretted decoration to the base is identical to the Lewis Foreman Day clock also made by Howell & Sons held in the collections of the Victoria and Albert Museum. Accession number CIRC.662-1972.